

Don Cutwright, Business Banking Relationship Manager representing M&T Bank's Women and Minority-Owned Business segments, mission is to support those business types on their entrepreneurial journey. His ideal banking prospects are businesses interested in understanding their revenue cycle and open to learning more about products and services which will simplify their banking relationship. He has worked with various industries over the years such as retailers, wholesalers, construction, manufacturers, and healthcare clients.

"M&T Bank, one of America's gems in commercial and retail banking, has intentionally created an inclusive new area to provide solutions to the market's diverse supplier businesses and Don Cutwright has been recruited to lead that charge. Don is the type of banker who will ensure that each new prospect will get his undivided attention and he will search for ways to accommodate the relationship. Please give him a call soon," said Wayne R. Frazier, president of MWMCA.

Cutwright brings more than 20 years of business banking experience to the position and holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Marketing from Auburn University.
