

MARTY GLAZE, PRESIDENT COMMERCIAL CONSTRUCTION

Marty Glaze is President of Commercial Construction, a Baltimore based minority-owned general contracting company. He is responsible for the company's vision and direction, including strategic planning, marketing, systems integration, quality assurance, and profitability.

At Commercial Construction, Marty leads a diverse team of forty-five talented professionals, including engineers, managers, and craftsmen. Under his leadership, the team has participated in some of Maryland's most distinguished projects, such as the John J. Rangos Bio Tech Building, the $200 Million Maryland Live Casino, the fit out of the Exelon Baltimore Headquarters and the recent completion of the Walbrook Mills Apartments. His team is currently constructing essential community development projects, such as Renaissance Row Apartments in Park Heights, 1234 McElderry Apartments in Old Town Perkins Somerset, and Village Center at Stadium Place, a residential community for senior citizens.

Marty's mission in life centers on giving back and making a difference in the communities he touches. He supports and advocates for minority businesses by intentionally ensuring minority inclusion on construction projects. He is also an avid supporter of children's initiatives and charitable organizations and consistently provides love and attention to kids in need.

Marty is the founder of "The Leaders of Tomorrow" mentorship program for teens. He volunteers as a speaker with various schools and athletic teams. He was honored by the Baltimore Polytechnic High School for his generous donation to renovate the weight room and build a new robotics and art laboratory.

A native of Baltimore, Marty attended Baltimore Polytechnic High School. He continued his education at Union College in Schenectady, New York, where he obtained a Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering. Marty generously gives his time by participating in community service projects such as Habitat for Humanity, the Urban League, NAACP Day of Service, and Rebuilding Together Baltimore. He serves as Vice Chairman of Philanthropik, a non-profit philanthropy organization, is a member of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity Incorporated, and is a board member for The Living Classroom Foundation.
